Marketing preferences	To send business contacts news and offers they would expect from us	Legitimate interests

We do not ask for sensitive personal information, and our websites are not aimed at children. Card payments are processed by our payment provider.

3. Where we get it

Most of it comes from you, or from a colleague at your organisation when they place an order. We may also receive information from credit reference agencies, trade referees and public sources such as Companies House.

4. Who we share it with

We share only what is needed, with:

- suppliers and carriers, so that goods can be delivered to you, often direct from the supplier
- subcontractors who install what you have ordered
- payment providers, banks and credit reference agencies
- companies that host or support our websites, email and accounts systems
- our professional advisers and insurers
- regulators, courts and the police, where the law requires it

We do not sell personal information. Organisations that process it for us may do so only on our instructions.

5. Sending information abroad

Some of our service providers may store information outside the UK. Where they do, we rely on the safeguards the law provides, such as adequacy regulations or approved contract terms.

6. How long we keep it

Record	How long
Orders, invoices and accounts records	Six years after the end of the financial year
Enquiries and quotations that do not become orders	Up to two years
Credit account files	While the account is open, and six years after it closes
Marketing contacts	Until you opt out
Website logs	Up to twelve months

7. Your rights

You can ask us to:

- give you a copy of the personal information we hold about you
- correct information that is wrong or incomplete
- delete it, or limit how we use it, where the law allows
- stop using it for marketing, at any time: every marketing email has an unsubscribe link
- stop any other use that relies on our legitimate interests
- pass it to you or another organisation in a common electronic format

Where we rely on your consent, you can withdraw it at any time. To use any of these rights, contact us using the details in section 1. There is normally no charge, and we will reply within one month.

8. Complaints

If you are unhappy with how we have used your information, please tell us first. We will acknowledge your complaint within 30 days and reply without undue delay. Our Data Protection Complaints Procedure, on our website, explains how.

You can also complain to the Information Commissioner's Office, which normally expects you to have raised the matter with us first.
